GOSPEL MEDITATION

Many make it their life's ambition to determine precisely when the world will end. By reading the signs of the times, consulting scripture, or looking to prophetic predictions that are sometimes centuries old, they claim a certain credibility in being able to do so. Is all that necessary to know? Even when his disciples pointedly ask him this question, Jesus does not directly answer. While the end will inevitably come, Jesus points out that there is a lot we need to do first: remain faithful, face persecution, endure suffering, face wars and insurrections, and give testimony. Human beings tend to focus their energies on the wrong kingdom. Consumed with all of the things we have built and seeking to preserve them, we forget that we belong to a different kingdom, the Kingdom of God.

All of the "stuff" we have constructed will be taken away. All that will remain is God's kingdom. Which kingdom do we prefer? We answer that question by honestly looking at where we invest most of our time and energy. What matters to us as we embrace a new moment or day in our lives? If our relationship with God, the strength and integrity of our souls, and the steadfastness of our character are of utmost importance, then it matters little when the physical end will come. We will have what we need to persevere, endure, and confront whatever comes our way. Jesus cautions that we do not allow ourselves to be overwhelmed or overly terrified by the agonies and disappointments of the world. Although we may be apprehensive and uncertain when faced with complex challenges, God is with us. We will receive the inspiration we need to forge ahead.

God is a God of salvation and new beginnings. Whether we consider the daily unfolding of our earthly lives or our eternal ones to come, God never leaves us with dead ends. There is always hope, and there is always something new to come. As Julian of Norwich reminds us, "God made us, God loves us and God keeps us." This wisdom holds true whether life is stable and profitable or challenging and uncertain. If we remember this simple truth, we will be ready regardless of the day or the hour.

MEDITACIÓN EVANGÉLICA

El próximo domingo celebraremos la Solemnidad de Jesucristo, Rey del Universo. Con esta celebración, damos fin al Año Litúrgico, y daremos comienzo al Ciclo A. Hemos escuchado el Evangelio de San Lucas, e iniciaremos con el Evangelio de San Mateo. Esto indica que ya debemos estar preparados para celebrar el Adviento, y enseguida la Navidad. Pero antes, que llegue el Adviento, el Evangelio de hoy nos explica que los discípulos estaban absortos ante la belleza y magnificencia del templo de Jerusalén. Jesús les dice que eso se convertirá en nada, pues con su muerte y resurrección, comprenderían mejor sus enseñanzas. Y una de ellas es ser conscientes que Dios habita en el templo de cada corazón, más que en el edificio.

Ante las dificultades de la vida, el Papa Francisco: "invita con fuerza a no tener miedo ante las agitaciones de cada época, ni siquiera ante las pruebas más severas e injustas que afligen a sus discípulos. El pide que perseveren en el bien y pongan toda su confianza en Dios que no defrauda". Y afirma esto con una frase del Evangelio: "Con todo, ni un cabello de su cabeza se perderá. Manténganse firmes y se salvarán" (Lucas 21,18-19).

El Papa asegura que Dios no olvida a ninguno de nosotros, que somos de su propiedad. Confía en que a pesar de todo lo que pase en el mundo y la sociedad, su justicia prevalecerá, por medio de cada uno de sus discípulos misioneros.

"You will be hated by all because of my name, but not a hair on your head will be destroyed. By your perseverance, you will secure your lives." (Luke 21: 17-19)

Jesus warns us to be prepared but assures the faithful stewards that those who persevere will be saved. Are we faithful to His teachings and practicing the fundamentals of Christian stewardship in a way that would be pleasing to Him?

Su regalo debe ser uno del que pueda estar orgulloso y uno que sepa que ayudará a las personas necesitadas. ¡Visite www.isupportabcd.org para hacer un regalo hoy!

Su donación planificada para nuestra donación proporcionará apoyo financiero para siempre. Contáctenos para obtener más información. (305) 762-1112.

"Matarán a algunos de ustedes y todos los odiarán por causa mía. Sin embargo, no caerá ningún cabello de la cabeza de ustedes. Si se mantienen firmes, conseguirán la vida". (Lucas 21:17-19)

Jesús nos advierte que estemos preparados, pero asegura a los administradores fieles que aquellos que perseveren serán salvos. ¿Somos fieles a Sus enseñanzas y practicamos los fundamentos de la corresponsabilidad cristiana de una manera que sería agradable para Él?
